

DID YOU KNOW?

You have detergents in your intestines!

Bile acids are the detergents in bile, the digestive liquid made by the liver. Without these detergents, you couldn't digest or absorb fats. And just like dish detergent, they make fat mix well with water, and only then can digestive enzymes break down the fat for absorption into the bloodstream.